The principalship of Oldenburg Academy is a challenging but rewarding position. There is nothing monotonous about being an administrator. Every new day brings new problems and, hopefully, new solutions.

The Mission Statement of the school directly influences every decision I make. It keeps me focused and on course with what is best for Oldenburg Academy. Naturally, "I wear lots of hats." As principal, I persue the curriculum constantly and compare it to similar private high schools. Spearheading the PBA (Performanced Based Objectives) and NCA (North Central Association) school evaluations for accreditation take lots of time. The implementing of technology has been a priority. The Five-year Technology Plan was a real learning process for me.

Mrs. Pelsor is indispensable and responsible for the organizational skills in the office. She is fun to work with and remembers everything I forget. Her efficiency and sense of humor are a great combination and really make for a pleasant environment in the front office.

I try to be available to parents, students and faculty. Talking on the phone, evaluating faculty, filling out State forms, listening to those who frequent the office with concerns, writing recommendations, addressing needs in the physical plant and being a visionary for the Academy are only a few things which fill my hours. I miss teaching terribly and the opportunity to learn daily from the students.

This position is not without its frustrations or moments of anxiety, but the end product to maintain, improve and increase Catholic secondary education in this community and in southeastern Indiana offsets any disappointments.

Mrs. Romweber

Office

Mrs. Pelsor

I like to describe the front office of Oldenburg Academy as a resource of school information from "What's for lunch? to how do I receive a copy of my transcript?" Working in the office is never a dull moment. There are many hats to wear - nurse, mail person, seamstress, copier repair person along with receptionist and secretary which all require a great deal of flexibility with a smile and a kind word, of course.

Working with Mrs. Romweber is a pleasant and enlightening experience. Her availability to students, faculty, staff, parents and the community is endless. She is a true professional from the word go and an inspiration to all who come in contact with her.
